Rebecca Parkey: M.S., LMFT Named Best Therapist in Las Vegas, Nevada by OnlineTherapy.com

The provider was ranked Best for CBT work with veterans among top mental health services across the city

Las Vegas, NV – OnlineTherapy.com, a premier global database that connects carefully vetted therapists with clients, has named Rebecca Parkey: M.S., LMFT among the best therapists in Las Vegas, Nevada. The top-rated providers were evaluated based on several key factors across three categories, including credentials, accessibility, and cost.

Rebecca Parkey: M.S., LMFT was recognized as the Best for CBT work with veterans among leading services. Therapists on the final list were required to work as licensed counselors in Nevada, have a master's or doctoral degree from an accredited college, and complete thousands of supervised hours working directly with clients. Research experts examined providers that offer a wide range of appointment times as well as remote sessions. It was also crucial to include practices with affordable options per-session or monthly subscription cost.

OnlineTherapy.com reviewed numerous providers across the city in high demand categories. To access the complete list of best therapists in Las Vegas, Nevada, please visit

ABOUT REBECCA PARKEY: M.S., LMFT

Rebecca Parkey is the CEO of The Parkey Group. She provides individuals, couples, and teens within the community, face to face services when desired, as well as anyone in Kansas, Missouri, and Nevada with telehealth services. She provides trauma informed therapeutic services as well as therapy for all types of behavioral stressors that are occurring in their life. She provides VAWA, Extreme hardship, and Asylum immigration evaluations for immigrants needing evaluations for court. In addition she provides corporate leadership training to companies that are looking to bring life back to their team that are otherwise struggling with lackluster performance, or that are having low employee feedback on surveys. The goal will be to bring a new team approach back to their work environment, as well as improve performance and improve employee satisfaction. Her experience as a manager has given her valuable skills in addition to being a therapist and understanding the need for a positive work culture. She provides grant support, training, writing and editing to companies who are in need of someone with experience in local, state, and federal grants. Finally, she is a trainer in evidence-based interventions, and has worked in higher education as an adjunct professor providing training to students, as well as supervision to students who are seeking a Master's Degree.
